

Artist Roberta Sajda Created this Work from a Photograph she took in Tularosa, NM.

The boulders in front of the doorway (created by using digital drawing and painting tools) show the obstacles to realizing / exercising our faith.

This piece reminds us all that we have obstacles to overcome. Our faith will not grow if we let things get in the way. We can't get to the door in the dark. We need to walk in the light of God to get us there safely.

ABOUT THE ARTIST: A former art educator in the Klein School District, Roberta Sajda has taught both painting and sculpture to students young and old alike. With studios based in Spring, Texas, and in Cloudcroft, New Mexico, her work has been exhibited locally and nationally, as well as in the French Hall of the Museum of Contemporary Arts in Astana, Kazakhstan.

In combining painting, photography, sculpture and digital media, Roberta speaks of the human connection to nature and life's journeys. Now a full-time artist, she teaches workshops and private lessons.
